Industries Align Selves With Move To Procure Bridge

Memberships Will Be Sold From January 13; Will Prepare Posters, Publicity

Twelve prominent Kingston industrial concerns aligned themselves with the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Committee membership campaign last night at the Governor Clinton.

Frederick J. K. Ertel, chairman of the Membership Campaign, listed the new organizations as follows: Electrol Inc.; Jacobson's Fuller Shirt Company; Skyline Mfg. Co.; Max Ulman, Inc.; Displayers Inc.; J. B. Back and Co.; Lady-Lyk Sportswear; Fox-Maid Frocks; Fort's Packing Company; and U. S. Lace Curtain Mills.

These organizations pledged their support to the membership campaign scheduled to get under way on Monday, January 13. Posters and other publicity material will be provided for the drive.

William C. Kingman, general chairman, and George E. Kerry, Jr., Ulster county chairman of the bridge committee, reviewed the history of Kingston's efforts to obtain a bridge across the Hudson and explained the purposes of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Committee.

Mr. Kingman said the Bridge Committee was confident that with widespread local support a bridge bill could be passed and signed this year. It was announced that assurances have been made by the New York State Bridge Authority that should the proposed bill be approved by the legislature that if funds are available, plans and soundings will be started within a few months.

Other suggestions were made for obtaining wider support in Kingston through theatres and retail merchant groups. Mr. Ertel announced that a similar meeting of manufacturers unable to attend last night's meeting, plus managers of local stores will be held the week of January 13.

The committee to arrange for publicity material to assist the manufacturers was appointed as follows: Clarence Rowland, Joseph Honig, William J. Fried, and Charles Back.

Chicago, Jan. 7 (AP)—Under direction of two young stewardesses, Miss Leta Knapp, 26, and Miss Betty Bell, 22, both of Minneapolis, 37 passengers and the crew of a Northwest Airlines DC-4 passenger plane which caught fire as it landed at the municipal airport last night, fled out of the burning liner. The plane, inbound from Minneapolis, lost the left landing gear as its wheels touched the snow-covered field. The left wing scraped the ground and the left inboard engine and the left wing burst into flames. The plane skidded several hundred feet before coming to a halt.

Taber Thinks 29½ Billions Should Be Enough; Possible Presidential Views Cited; Confusion Grows

Washington, Jan. 7 (AP)—President Truman was reported ready today to send Congress a $37,000,000,000 budget and simultaneously take a strong stand against any tax cuts.

This speculative figure clashes head on with estimates already given reporters by the new Republican chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Taber of New York. He told reporters the needs of government can be met with about $29,500,000,000.

Also the President's view that any revenue surplus should go to reduce the public debt—as already indicated in his state of the union message—runs into a determined tax-cutting drive by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Features Listed For Horticultural Meeting at Armory

State Group to Hold Sessions at State Armory Here on January 29 to 31

Latest information on both production and marketing and exhibits of the most modern equipment will be featured at the 92nd annual meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society at the New York State Armory here on January 29 through January 31. There is plenty of space at the state armory, which is expected to result in an unusually large number of displays.

Features of this year's program are announced as follows: Wednesday morning, January 29—New information on fruit thinning and drop prevention sprays, paylla and codling moth control on pears, and control of oriental peach moth and Japanese beetles.

In the afternoon, scientists will give the latest information on the effect of D.D.T. on codling moth and other pests. Some insects, it is reported, build up more with D.D.T. than with the regular spray program. The evening program includes moving pictures to show the latest in dusting and spraying equipment.

Thursday, January 30—Controlling apple scab and spring frosts, two important Hudson valley problems of the last two years; saving labor in spraying, with a Michigan report by Dr. E. J. Rasmussen; pest control and marking efficient New York growers do the job, by Kenneth Robinson, Cornell, Dr. Damon Boynton will discuss orchard soil management, emphasizing soil needs other than nitrogen.

In the evening, a banquet, first since the war, will have Commissioner C. C. DuMont as the principal speaker.

Friday, January 31—Emphasis on how to do a better job of harvesting, packing, and marketing apples. Speakers will be W. Marvin, manager of the Apple Institute, Edward Hausman, New York State Horticultural Society.

U. N. Council to Welcome 3 New Members, Accept Trieste

Lake Success, N. Y., Jan. 7 (AP)—

The United Nations Security Council meets today (3 p. m. E.S.T.) to welcome three new non-permanent members, accept future stewardship over Trieste and perhaps plunge again into the dispute between the United States and Russia over disarmament and atomic controls.

Starting the new year under the chairmanship of Australia's Norman J. O. Makin, who presided at the first meeting in London a year ago January 27, the council had before it the Trieste decision of the foreign ministers' council.

Under that decision in the Italian peace treaty the security council would govern Trieste as a free territory to guarantee its independence and security.

Acceptance of this mission, which is the first concrete peace-maintenance project to be handed to the 11-nation council by the foreign ministers, was regarded as a formality. Such vital questions as the appointment of a territorial governor for Trieste will be considered later.

Greene County Parents Are in Dispute With Town Officials Over Road

State Education Department officials were "hopeful" today for a settlement within a few days of a stay-at-home strike of more than 50 pupils in a Greene county school district in a dispute between parents and town highway officials over the condition of roads.

Burton H. Belknap of the State Education Department at Albany said Robert MacNaught, superintendent of the Tannersville-Hunter school district, would confer with the parents and officials shortly. Belknap said he was hopeful the situation would be "straightened out within a matter of a few days," according to The Associated Press.

The pupils remained at home yesterday in the climax of a dispute in which the parents assert that the roads over which the school bus travels are dangerous because of recent snow and sleet storms.

F. B. Rasbach, school principal, said only two of 55 pupils who normally ride the bus did so yesterday.

The following communication was sent by Mrs. Zill for the parents' committee to the State Education Department:

B.W.P. Gives Use Of Lawton Park

Hill and Cabin Will Be in Use for Sledding for Children

The Board of Public Works has agreed to throw Lawton Park open to sleigh riding for children in response to a request by the Junior Married Women's Club of the Y.W.C.A., Mrs. Hugh Elwyn, the club's publicity chairman, said today.

Mrs. Elwyn stated that Mayor William F. Edelmutz yesterday had informed Mrs. William G. Smith that he would instruct the Board of Public Works to turn over the lights at Lawton Park and complete whatever work would be needed to make the area a first class sleighing hill. Mrs. Smith is chairman of the Married Women's committee seeking to set up more sleighing sites throughout the city.

The mayor promised to have the cabin at Lawton Park opened and made to have a small concession for hot drinks and a fireplace in the cabin, Mrs. Elwyn said. The park will open immediately.

The Married Women's urgent request for the Lawton Park sleighing site came after many parents on the Boulevard expressed growing concern over the practice of youngsters sleighing down the main traffic artery. Several became alarmed over the possibility of serious accidents and urged the Young Married Women's Club to prevail upon the city to open Lawton Park.

Mrs. Elwyn reported that the skating rink at the Athletic Field has not proved a success because of inability to freeze the water there. She was informed, she said, that it is impossible to freeze water because of the seepage. In order to effect a first class rink it would be necessary to build a wood or concrete base to the rink.

Reasserting the club's concern for the safety of the city's children, Mrs. Elwyn said the Young Married Women would continue to press for sleigh riding facilities in every park in the city. It is their goal, she said, to have a

Truman Has Presented Dilemma

Asks Congress Create Commission to Curb Strikes, Still Keep Freedoms

Most 'Don't Know'

Taft Opposes Strike Legislation, Others Admit Quandry

Washington, Jan. 7 (AP)—The new Congress now struggles with one of the major problems of modern history: How to prevent strikes in vital industries without destroying some measure of freedom.

President Truman handed this dilemma over to the lawmakers yesterday.

He asked Congress to create a commission that would invent new machinery to prevent nation-wide strikes in such industries as transportation, coal, oil, steel, or communications "without endangering our general democratic freedoms."

He cautioned that "upon a proper solution of this problem may depend the whole industrial future of the United States."

"Big strikes," he said, "can bring national disaster," and soon the expiration of all war-time powers will leave the White House powerless to stop such disasters.

Is a solution possible? Can it be done? Was the President pointing up a blind alley or was he issuing a challenge that might bring new and inventive ideas?

Not many in Congress have formed a positive opinion, one way or the other.

Taft's Viewpoint

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate labor committee, is one who has. He said in a recent interview: "You can't prevent strikes without destroying freedom. You can't make people work unless you are prepared to give our government the powers of Mr. Hitler or Mr. Stalin."

Therefore Taft is opposed to legislation that would prevent coal, steel, or railroad strikes.

Others are convinced that the most damaging strikes—as in an electric power plant or the coal industry—can be prevented by compelling both sides to let a third party settle the dispute (compulsory arbitration), and still not destroy "our general democratic freedoms."

But most members of Congress just don't know. They are "not ready to express themselves on that." They are torn between wanting to protect the public interest and wanting to preserve freedom. Some denounce strikes but also defend the right to strike.

May Not Get Far

Judging by the present attitude of many in Congress who want immediate action and not investigations, the President's proposal for a 20-man investigating commission may not get very far.

But the basic problem he stated will be there, staring Congress in the face day after day.

Organized labor reacted just about as cautiously as members of Congress.

Warily, C.I.O. President Philip Murray and his associates here declined to say anything before a thorough study of Mr. Truman's proposal can be made.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, likewise was silent.

Green First to Speak

A.F.L. President William Green was the first to speak up. He said the President had "shown real statesmanship and rendered the nation a great service" by emphasizing there should be no "punitive legislation."

The objectives sought by Mr. Truman in his speech, Green said, "should be endorsed by all the American people."

"The A.F.L. will give careful and sympathetic consideration to the specific proposals submitted by the President," said Green. These will be discussed by the A.F.L. Executive Council, meeting in Miami January 29, Green said.

Withdrawal Is Underway

Batavia, Jan. 7 (AP)—Withdrawal of all armed Indonesian nationalists from Palembang and a 12-mile surrounding area was underway today in compliance with a Netherlands Army ultimatum.

The local Republican governor said he had accepted the ultimatum "in order to save the city from destruction." The area has been the scene of fighting for several days.

Makes "State of Nation" Address

President Truman, making his "state of the nation" address before a joint session of Congress in the House chamber in Washington, calls for passage of a four-point labor program designed to prevent strikes which stifle the nation's economy. Behind the President is Senate President Pro Tempore Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and at right is Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin, Jr. (R-Mass.). Men in foreground are unidentified. Giant Back Says Paris Tried Several Times to Influence Play

New York, Jan. 7 (AP)—Merle Hapes, New York Giant back, told a General Sessions Court jury today that Alvin J. Paris, 28-year-old novelty concern executive, attempted on several occasions to persuade him to throw the December 15 championship football game between the Giants and the Chicago Bears.

Hapes added that he refused absolutely to have anything to do with such a proposition.

The Giant back was the first witness in the trial of Paris on charges of attempted bribery of Hapes and Frank Filchok, another Giant backfield star, to throw the game with the Chicago Bears.

The Bears won the game 24 to 14.

Under cross-examination, Hapes testified that although he considered the attempted bribery a disgrace, he did not report it.

Negotiations Begin Jan. 16; Contract May Set Pattern

Pittsburgh, Jan. 7 (AP)—The U.S. Steel Corp. and the C.I.O.-United Steelworkers of America begin negotiations January 16 for a new contract that may once again set the wage pattern for the steel industry.

A year ago the steelworkers' demands for a $2-a-day increase resulted in a month-long nationwide steel strike. It was settled by an 18¢ cent hourly wage boost. The present contract expires February 15.

This year the steelworkers' wage demands remain undisclosed.

The 40-man executive board of the Steelworkers meets here Thursday and Friday to map its strategy against "big steel."

U. S. Steel, in announcing the start of negotiations, said the meeting was requested by Murray.

A steelworkers' spokesman said the union will make its formal demands January 16, including an unspecified wage increase, port-

Man Sought for 'Camera Shooting' of Wife in New York Camping in Sleeping Bag

'Framed,' He Says

Kept Saying to Lewises, 'They'll Never Get Me Alive'

By TONI ADAMS

Cobleskill, N. Y., Jan. 7 (AP)—The bullet-riddled body of Alphonse Rocco, 28, who engineered the New Year's eve "camera-gun" shooting of his ex-wife, lay unclaimed today in a Cobleskill funeral home.

Two snapshots and $62.93 were found on the body of the racketeer who was shot to death by police last night as he hunched in a sleeping bag on a snow-covered hill at nearby Patchin Hollow in this desolate Catskill Mountain area.

One snapshot showed Rocco with his attractive ex-wife, Olga, who lost one of her legs as a result of the "camera" shooting in a crowded New York city subway station and whom Rocco purportedly had tried to win back.

Another showed a girl, whom State Police Inspector Charles La Forge declined to identify, because, he said, he did not wish to hurt the girl.

Coroner Duncan Best found four bullet holes, but no bullets in Rocco's body. One charge smashed through his nose, another pierced his heart and two broke his right leg, La Forge said.

The inspector said police were trying to locate relatives.

Rocco was tracked to his death under an evergreen tree and a full moon after he had gained shelter for nearly 48 hours by brandishing two pistols.

Shot by Troopers

Grand Gorge, N. Y., Jan. 7 (AP)—"They'll never get me alive," Alphonse Rocco swore before he was shot to death in his snowy hilltop hideout near here, after a futile flight, following the New Year's eve "camera" shooting of his former wife in New York.

Rocco met death last night under an evergreen tree and a full moon in Patchin Hollow, as he crouched in a sleeping bag taken from one of the two Catskill Mountain farm homes where he gained shelter for nearly 48 hours by brandishing two pistols.

He fired four shots from his German Walther automatic (P.A. 38) as State Police and New York city detectives waded through knee-deep snow to surround him.

Then Trooper James H. Smith, after shooting at close range, called: "Come on out, you skunk!"

Rocco could not come out. A bullet from one of the guns fired by Smith, Cpl. Francis Hillman and New York City Detective Henry Strauss had struck home.

One had smashed his nose and the blood ran over the crusted snow.

La Forge Leads Attack

State Police Inspector Charles La Forge led the uphill attack from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Lewis, where Rocco last had been seen.

The Lewises, whose two-year-old son, Richard, slept through most of the fracas, admitted the lean, dark fugitive in the company of Frank Naish, in whose nearby Broome Center home Rocco had paced for 29 hours previously.

Rocco, leaving in the Naish garage the automobile he had stolen from a Bronx man, forced Naish to drive him to Grand Gorge shortly before 10 p. m. Saturday.

Naish said he had gained the impression Rocco planned to hop a bus. The hunted would-be killer changed his plan, however, and ordered Naish to drive him to the Lewis home, eight miles southwest of here.

Rocco had met both families in previous hunting trips to this Catskill Mountain area, where, in prohibition days, "Legs" Diamond and other notorious gangsters lurked.

Made No Vocal Threats

The terrified couples said Rocco voiced no definite threats, but twirled his pistols menacingly. He never mentioned the trick shooting in a crowded Times Square subway of his beautiful

Legion Post Plans Ball January 31 With 2 Orchestras

Woodstock, Jan. 7.—Woodstock Legion Post's benefit ball will be held at the Woodstock Town Hall, January 31, at 8 p. m. The proceeds will be split three ways between the March of Dimes, the Sister Kenny fund, and the Woodstock Health Center.

Placards will be placed around the township reminding the residents of these three causes. Donations may be paid or mailed to John Pepper, Woodstock, treasurer of the Legion. Remembering the Armistice dance given by the Legion this fall, it is with great anticipation that the town looks forward to the ball. There will be continuous dancing with music by two orchestras. Not only for the fun the evening promises, but also for the worthwhile causes sponsored by the Legion, this should be the star event of the year, wholeheartedly supported by the entire township.

Country Club Party Hailed as Liveliest

Woodstock, Jan. 7.—Resounding echoes throughout the township acclaim the New Year's Eve party at the Country Club to have been the liveliest welcome 1947 received in town.

Through the efforts of Harry Daniels and Bob Early the club was gayly garbed in greens, multi-colored streamers and balloons hung from the rafters, and a fire was kept burning in the fireplace to create atmosphere for the evening.

The party was organized largely through the work of Ted King and Charles Cooper and it is to their credit and the Club's that such a satisfactory evening was enjoyed by those present. Among those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen, Elizabeth Allen, Victor Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moore, Chan Moore, Joan Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Ted King, Joe Grumbacher, Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Peters, Vance Kniffen, Harry Kennedy, Richard Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Waterous, Mrs. Herbert Waterous, Mrs. Ruth Grumbacher, Mrs. Willard Allen, Mr. and Mrs. B. Republicans Think President May Have Good Average

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Jan. 7 (AP)—Republicans in Congress figured today that President Truman has adopted enough of their program to assure himself a fairly legislative batting average.

The way G.O.P. leaders and committee chairmen size things up, the Truman record may look considerably better on the books than when the Democrats were running Congress—and discarding or changing more presidential proposals than they accepted.

But the prospective new laws on taxes, labor, housing and on down the line will be what the Republicans think they should be—not necessarily what Mr. Truman wants.

Chairman Michener (R-Mich.) of the House Judiciary Committee, put it this way to a reporter:

"The President's subjects are fine. But we may not like the methods. We're for housing, but we don't want the government to build everybody a home. We are for improved health, but not for socialized medicine."

"Sure," said House Republican

Leader Halleck (Ind.), "We'll proceed expeditiously to act on labor problems."

"We'll hasten the end of war-time controls. We all applaud his ideas for expansion of private enterprise. We Republicans have been for that all along."

"Maybe Farther On Economy" "On budget balancing," Halleck went on, "He's offering cooperation on an important plank in our victory platform of 1948. We'll go along with him on economy—maybe farther than he wants."

The President's labor program drew loud applause. Yet many Republicans said it didn't go far enough. They may expand it. Both the G.O.P. and White House agree it must not be punitive.

On taxes, the chief executive recommended only that Congress retain for another year the war-time excise rates on luxury items now due to end June 30. Republicans have been considering ending them immediately. And they have introduced a bill to trim 20 per cent from personal taxes on incomes up to $500,000.

It's evidently a toss-up whether Congress will merge the Army and Navy, as the President requests.

Training, Draft Dead Universal training and extension of the draft apparently are dead even before Mr. Truman makes definite bids for them.

Some things Mr. Truman requested of the last Congress were omitted this time. An example: More pay for the unemployed.

"In abandoning some of those things," Halleck said, "He is being realistic. The people aren't interested in a lot of those things because they aren't sound or desirable."

This is the way some of the current Presidential proposals stack up:

Housing—The President asks for an "aggressive" program along lines of the Wagner-Elender-Taft Bill approved by the Senate last year. The Senate may pass it again. The House may junk it as before. The House Banking Committee plans a study of the whole housing problem. Says Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.): "We want no socialization of housing."

Federal Controls—The President and Republicans are in agreement they should be lifted as rapidly as possible.

Veterans—The President says the program of veterans benefits is "complete" except for minor adjustments. Many members of Congress, both Republicans and Democrats, are pushing bills for more billions to help former G.I.'s.

Peace Treaties—Mr. Truman wants Senate ratification of those with Italy, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary as the best obtainable even though they are imperfect. Republicans are expected to follow Senator Vandenberg (Mich.) in voting for them.

Refugees—The President wants legislation that will allow more displaced persons from abroad to come to the United States. Heavy opposition to relaxing immigration laws has developed among both parties.

T.V.A.—The President plugged development of great river systems with "full vigor." Legislators are split on the idea. Many from areas that would be developed favor the program.

ed and plowed, also a temporary guard rail put up along the Janger points. As yet nothing has been done. Fifty-five school children have been kept out since Thursday, Jan. 2, 1947, and will continue to be out until the road is made safe for bus travel. Parents are willing to face court action to protect their children.

One official telephoned me that he would meet with the committee if I would telephone him later when the road became safe to travel.

Right now the road is a glare of ice and is not sanded.

Yours very truly,

MRS. JULIA ZILLI.

Notice was given December 23 by a Parents' Committee in Lanesville to the State Education Department that unless something definite was done about the roads, school children would be kept home beginning January 6. A copy of the letter appeared in The Freeman December 26.

A petition signed by the parents was sent December 2 to the governor and the education department, saying that parents would refuse to send their children to school unless the hazards of the Notch Road—Route 214 to Hunter—were eliminated.

The letter of December 23 cited a lack of guard rails and lack of repair of a stretch known as the "washboard road."

The Parents' Committee consisted of Bessie Lee, Stella M. Grant, Alice A. Craig, Mrs. George Osterander, John Papp and Julia Zilli.

Two Are Awaiting Grand Jury Action For Having Guns

While engaged in road block operations in connection with the search for Alphonse Rocco, New York "camera" shooting mastermind, Sergeant Arthur Reilly of the Lake Katrine Trooper barracks apprehended two young men for possession of loaded firearms. Taken before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush of town of Ulster they waived examination and were held for grand jury action.

The two young men charged with possession of firearms without having the necessary license are Percy E. Partridge, 18, of Ashland, Greene county, and Sigurd R. Wicamp, 20, of Saugerties. Both were remanded to custody of Sheriff Smith to await grand action.

Both men were picked up during a very intensive search which was made of all persons who passed through road blocks which had been thrown up by local State Troopers in the search for Rocco. Cars were stopped at various points and the occupants identified before they were permitted to continue.

Regrets Bowl Decision

New York, Jan. 7 (AP)—J. L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota, told delegates to the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention today that he regretted the "Big Nine" had succumbed to the football bowl craze. The Western Conference last fall signed a five year agreement with the Pacific Coast Conference to send its football champion to Pasadena, Calif., for the Rose Bowl game. In his speech, Morrill also declared that "intercollegiate football is ready for a killing by the gamblers and when that killing takes place it will rock our big stadiums to their very foundations."

Hapes Says Paris Made Attempts

Honorable proposition, he did not report the incident to the Giants' coach, and that after the offer he allowed Paris to drive Mrs. Hapes in his automobile from New York to the Bear Mountain training camp of the Giants.

Hapes told the jury of two women and 10 men hearing the case before Judge Saul S. Street that he told Paris "no good" when the novelty concern executive allegedly offered him $2,500 and a bet of $1,000 if he would throw the game. He also testified that Paris asked him to broach the subject to Filchok.

"He asked if I could see if the Bears would win by 10 points," Hapes testified under direct examination by Assistant District Attorney George O. Monaghan. "He asked me if I could throw a game. I said 'What do you mean?' He wanted to know if I could throw a game. When I asked him why, he said there would be more in it for him if the Bears won by 10 points and more money for me—$2,500 in it plus a $1,000 bet."

"I told him the only way I could throw a game was to make a fumble and I said I wouldn't do that. I told him I wouldn't throw a game."

"He asked you to throw the game," Monaghan asked.

"Yes, he said, 'What did you say?' I said 'no good,' Hapes replied.

Hapes testified he told Paris he wouldn't speak to Filchok, that he would "have to speak to Frank himself."

Hapes said this conversation took place a week before the championship game. He added that on December 10 Paris asked him if he had seen Filchok and he said he replied "yes, I saw Frank and told him you wanted to see him."

Two days before the game, Hapes testified he was at the Bear Mountain camp and Paris telephoned and asked "what does Frank think about this?"

"I said to him," Hapes continued, "Frank said it was no good; he never threw a game and he wouldn't know how to throw a game. He wanted to know how the boys were feeling and again asked me if I could throw the game. I said the only way I could do it was by a fumble and I told him I wouldn't. It was no good."

"Did you ever tell him you would throw the game?" Monaghan asked.

"No, sir," Hapes replied. Under cross-examination by John McKim Minton, of defense counsel, Hapes was asked:

"Did you report this immediately to the coach?"

"No, sir," Hapes replied. "Did you report this attempt to have you do a dishonorable thing?" Minton asked.

"Yes," Hapes answered. "How did you do it?"

"I told him I wouldn't have anything to do with it," Hapes said. Hapes early testimony told in detail how he met Sidney Paris, the defendant's father, and of various invitations to the Paris apartment with Filchok, and also Vic Carroll and Howie Livingston, other Giant players, and their wives. He said on one occasion the players were offered off-season jobs by Paris.

Tanker Frees Self Goes Down River

The tanker, which had been caught in the ice of the Hudson River near Esopus, was apparently able to free itself Monday afternoon and continue down the river, according to Fred Spinnenweber.

The tanker became caught in the ice late Sunday afternoon. Crewmen had given indication that food was needed aboard and arrangements were made with Mr. Spinnenweber to transport the necessary supplies yesterday.

Mr. Spinnenweber had agreed to take supplies to the seven men crew by airplane yesterday afternoon but upon arrival found that the tanker had gone.

Bevin and Jones Agree on Partition predicted a large-scale offensive to rush Jewish underground resistance.

Confers With Chiefs
Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine high commissioner, conferred with Colonial Office chiefs on partition proposals, which informants said would range some where between the American-revised "Goldmann Plan" and a supported version of the semi-federalization scheme announced last year by Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison.

The Goldmann Plan envisaged creation of a Jewish state within the area recommended by the Jews by the 1937 Peel Report, plus the Negev Desert in southern Palestine. This would give the Jews about 60 per cent of the Holy Land. The revised version of the Morrison plan would give more power to the provinces proposed in the original draft.

In any partition plan which would be subject to final approval by the United Nations, Britain probably would reserve at least Jerusalem and the port city of Haifa as neutral areas, informants said, the former for its sacred shrines, the latter because it is the terminus of the Anglo-Persian oil pipeline. Neutral areas would be under British trusteeship administration.

The cabinet, meanwhile, was pictured by the British Press Association as seeking means of "inducing Jews to join" the renewed Palestine conference now set for January 21 in London.

former wife, according to Lewis, but he repeated over and over: "I was framed" and "They'll never get me alive."

The gun that inflicted the wound that necessitated amputation of one of Mrs. Rocco's legs was concealed by Christmas wrappings. Blonde Pearl Lusk, 19, told police Rocco, under the pretense he was an insurance investigator, had instructed her to use the "camera" to photograph hidden jewelry he said Mrs. Rocco was wearing.

The guns that killed Rocco were not hidden but they were many. La Forge, aided by Troop C Inspector Carl Lawson, 39, 50 Troop C and Troop G men for the trap.

Mrs. Lewis, a pretty, young woman, who seemed calm after the capture, gave Rocco a ham sandwich and some tea. When he fed, he took a sleeping bag and war veteran had given Lewis.

Coroner Duncan L. Best of Middleburgh made a preliminary examination of the body under the moonlight, then ordered it removed to Cobleskill for an autopsy today.

In New York's Roosevelt Hospital, where she still is in critical condition, Mrs. Rocco was informed of her former husband's death, police said. Sobbing at first, Mrs. Rocco later smiled and said weakly: "At last, I'll be able to get a good night's rest."

Memoriam
In loving remembrance of our dear son and brother, Walter J. Mayone, who left us three years ago January 7, 1944. When evening shadows gather, And we are sitting here alone, In our hearts there comes a longing, If you only could come home.

Our hearts are sad and lonely, Our grief too deep to tell, Time will come, we care not when, That we with you may dwell, MOTHER, FATHER, SISTERS and BROTHERS

"When you can shake hands with your competitor and mean it—when you can work hard in your business and love it—then business is safe."

When you advertise service and give it—when you can build a reputation and keep it—when you can agree to a standard and stick to it—then business is safe.

When you can sense competition and not knock it—when you can fight competition and still boost it—then business is safe.

You may leave when you wish—there's no lock on the door—But I hope you will stay, for there's room for one more.

The cheerful worker will do more in the same time. He will do it better. He will inspire his fellow workers to greater achievement.

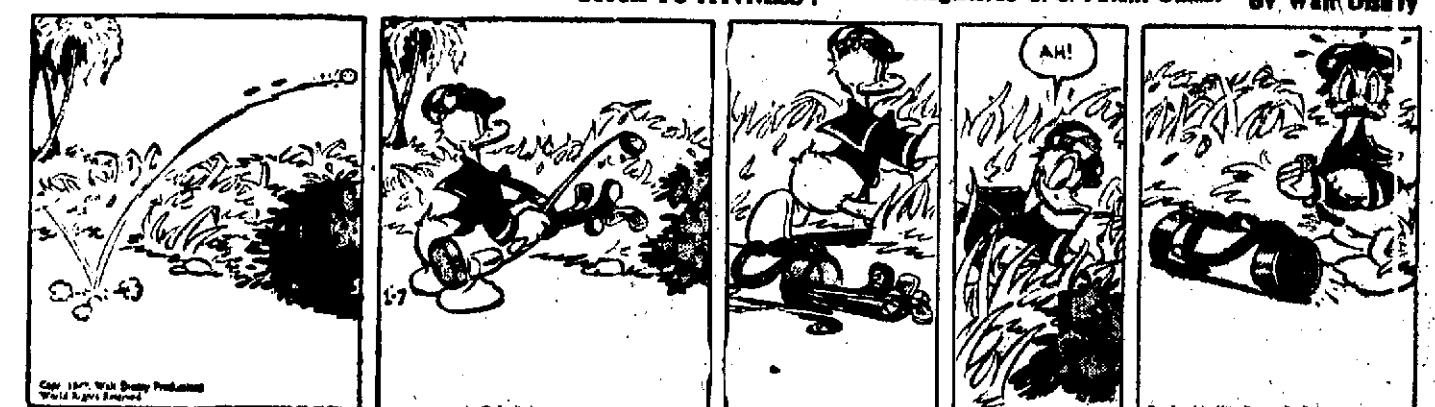

Cheerfulness is nothing more or

To Lecture at Teachers College

CECIL BROWN

Cecil Brown, distinguished radio commentator and foreign correspondent, will lecture at the Teachers College in New Paltz on January 14 at 8:30 p. m. under the auspices of the New Paltz Artists Series. His subject will be "The Job Ahead—Winning the Peace."

Mr. Brown's career as observer, student and reporter of the war and international affairs is said to make him eminently qualified to discuss vital problems facing the world today in its attempt to establish a lasting peace.

In February of 1940, after a successful mission as foreign correspondent for the International News Service, Mr. Brown began broadcasting for CBS from Rome. His broadcasts from the Italian capital stood out for accuracy and keen observation, but in telling the truth he offended the Fascists and was expelled from Italy in time to cover the Nazi attack on Yugoslavia in the spring of 1941. After a number of thrilling escapes, he was finally captured by the Germans. Eventually released, he made an escape to Budapest. After assignment to Cairo, from which point he covered the Syrian campaigns for CBS. Mr. Brown went to the Far East. Later from Singapore his broadcasts on conditions there and the progress of the war brought him into conflict with British censorship. The British felt that his reports, though wholly factual and true, were too "pessimistic." After being out of the air, he went to the Netherlands East Indies and was there during much of the fighting in that area.

Since his return to the United States, Cecil Brown has won a wide audience for his regular broadcasts over one of the major networks. He has also contributed articles to a number of leading periodicals.

Remaining events in the New Paltz Artists Series are a concert by Tito Schipa, leading operatic tenor, on February 18, a concert by Anne Brown, soprano star of "Porgy and Bess" on March 31, and a spring concert by the college musical organizations on May 20.

Shokan Telephone Building Underway

New Structure Will House New, Enlarged Dial Equipment

The New York Telephone Company has started work on a new telephone building in Shokan to house new and enlarged dial equipment. The building is a one-room structure of brick with late roof and stone trim.

The new equipment will replace the former dial office which is rapidly being outgrown as the number of telephones in Shokan continues to increase. The new installation will have the most modern and improved type of equipment and will be adequate to provide service for all telephones in Shokan and allow an ample margin for growth.

The Telephone Company is hampered in its improvement program by difficulty in getting an adequate supply of certain raw materials essential to the manufacture of telephone equipment.

Copper, rubber, steel, lead and cotton are among the materials which cannot be obtained in any where near the quantities that the Telephone Company needs and can use. However, the company is pushing the work with all possible speed as materials become available and hopes to have the new dial equipment installed and working some time during the first half of 1947.

Local Veteran Is Hard Hit by Housing Shortage

Lives in Trailer With Wife and Son Who Are Ill; May Move on City Hall

Kingston is experiencing a serious housing shortage similar to most communities, but one unusual situation was disclosed over the week-end when a veteran of World Wars I and II was found to be living in a trailer with his wife and son, who is also a World War II veteran. Both the mother and son are in ill health and the father, veteran of both wars, was recently "let out" of his job.

This family, living in a trailer, shares toilet and bath facilities with the people on whose property their trailer is located and it was found that five families are using the same facilities. The irony of the situation is that the family owns a home which is rented out to another veteran and his family. This veteran is willing to vacate the premises and permit the owners to move in their own home but he must first find a place for himself and his wife and child. This veteran is appealing to anyone who has a house to communicate with him so that he may vacate and allow the owner of his present quarters to move in their own house. Advertisements have failed and one veteran threatens now to "move in the city hall" if necessary.

Anyone who has a place for rent for the veteran and his wife and child may communicate that fact to Mrs. Blanche TenBroeck, known as the "Bond Woman" during the War. Bond drives conducted during World War II. Her phone is 2877-R-1.

The whole family gets a break

To look at this line you probably wouldn't give a wooden nickel for Mom's and Pop's chances of getting a little hot water for their morning wash!

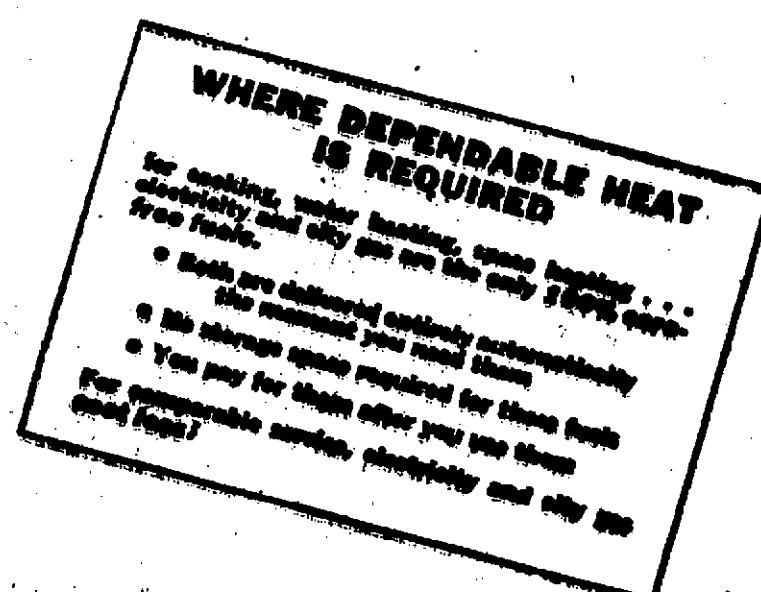

But you'd be wrong! Downstairs there's an automatic water heater busy at work giving everyone an even break.

For the hundred-and-one other jobs in the home, a modern automatic water heater does the trick, too. It speeds up dishwashing, makes dishes sparkle, sterilizes them. Wash day's no problem, either. An automatic water heater never lets you down half way through. Besides, its steady automatic supply of really hot water lets you take full advantage of the modern do-everything washers.

Right now your chances of getting a new automatic water heater are pretty good.

Fulton Lewis, Jr., Will Be Guest Speaker at C. of C. Event at State Armory

Reservations for the Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner on Wednesday, February 5, at the New York State Armory will be handled on a first come, first served basis, Louis B. Steketee, publicity chairman, said today.

The highlight of the dinner will be the appearance of Fulton Lewis Jr., noted commentator of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Response to the dinner has been so heavy, Mr. Steketee said, that reservations will be thrown open to all individuals or organizations desiring to hear Mr. Lewis. The publicity chairman emphasized that the dinner will not be confined to members of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Lewis' appearance here is creating considerable interest, Steketee said. "We are extending an invitation to all individuals and organizations, outside the regular C. of C. membership, who would like to hear Mr. Lewis."

Mr. Steketee said that tables or individual seats would be allotted in order of reservations. The earliest reservations would be given the front seats and tables.

Reservations can be made at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton building.

Ike Jenkins to Face Rugged Foe in Connie Theis Thursday Night

Upstate Battler Praised by Former N.B.A. Ring Champ

Buffalo Amateur Has Won 27 Out of 30 Battles, Including 10 K.O.'s; Rest of Card Given

A rugged son of the soil is Connie Theis, the Buffalo lightweight who is matched with Ike Jenkins in the main bout on B'n'l British boxing card at the municipal auditorium, Thursday night.

And, the 18-year-old Polish-German-American fighter is a rugged ringman, too, according to his trainer, Tommy Paul, National Boxing Association featherweight champion of 1932.

The Buffalo A.C. boxing coach, who won his title by defeating Johnny Fenn, noted in a pre-fight session that "Young Theis" is "honey of a left jab, and that dynamite right that helped him win the Niagara District Golden Gloves championship this year."

Connie won by a knockout in Cleveland last week. Paul continued, "He seems to have more power in his right hand than in his left. He has 10 knockouts to his credit. He's a consistent winner. The kid has won 27 out of 30 battles."

Indications are that Jenkins, his New York city opponent will have a real assignment Thursday night. However, he is in such tough shape. Local fans will recall his fiery ring war with Jackie Kough of Cleveland last October, his knockout victory over the sensational Buddy Matthews of New York and his technicals over Paul Hawks, rugged Beacon Bomber and Mike Steele of Rochester, who recently gave Tony Barone a run for the decision upstate.

Always in Good Shape "I've never seen a more faithful boy to his training routine than Theis," said Paul. "He rides 16 miles to the gym every day. Five miles of road work is a daily habit. He never neglects his conditioning. He is always in good physical trim."

Concerning his discovery of Theis, the former pro champ remarked, "I saw him working out on a heavy bag in the gymnasium. He was doing everything wrong, but he could punch, and I mean hard. Connie was ready to accept a contract, suggesting that he should be trained by me."

Besides teaching boxing at the Buffalo A.C., Tommy Paul is also at Nicholas High School in the upstate city. He holds these positions because of his background. He started campaigning as an amateur in 1926, won a district title, and the next year copped the national 118-pound diamond in Boston. He turned pro when he fought his way to the N.B.A. featherweight championship in 1932. On the way up he met and defeated such celebrated scrappers as Fidel La Barba, Bushy Graham, and Johnny Pena.

He boxed a draw with the immortal Kid Chocolate in Los Angeles and Baby Arizmendi in Mexico. He has two other boxers on Thursday's B'n'l British card, Jimmy Kennedy and Alex Ashley. Kennedy, 143 pounds of Fighting Irishman, is matched with Albany's former national Diamond Belt champion, Jimmy Marlo, who decided Paul Hawks here and punched out a win over the clever Clarence Aylene of New York city.

Spadaro Here Again Ashley, who will weigh in at about 110, is matched with Sam Spadaro, Albany's lightning-fast flyweight, who has won a tough time trying to stay away from Alex's hard left jab and a right cross that has been the deciding factor in most of his victories.

Kennedy and Ashley are very good prospects. Paul thinks, and is counting on the kid to win for their records. Thursday night, the other five-rounder on the card will bring together Eddie Morton, Albany welterweight, and Paul "Kid" Hawks, Beacon Bomber. Hawks, who has fought a lot of first rate battles, including Ike Jenkins, will be the main attraction. Eddie Morton turned the tables on him in a main bout at Poughkeepsie, Thursday's "rubber" promises to be one of the best action fights on the bill.

Preliminary three rounds: Paul Allegro, Albany heavyweight, vs. Vince Savio of Middletown, who fought a hard battle here with Newburgh's Carl Reinhardt.

Tommy Davis, 150, Kingston, vs. Harry Rivers, Albany. Willem Verhoeck, 155, Kingston, formerly of Holland, vs. Harrison Rivers (Harry's twin brother), Albany.

Moore Win at Shuffleboard Kingston Lodge, 970, Loyal Order of Moose, scored a four out of five victory over Newburgh in shuffleboard Sunday. High scorers for Kingston were Mel Soules with 19 points, Tony Erena and Fred Piantabene with 15 each. Others playing for Kingston were John McGrane, Fred Becker, Harold Wolf, Charlie Amato and Jack Emmet. Kingston meets Poughkeepsie January 15.

Lamplighters Triumph The Kingston Lamplighters upset the highly-touted Woodstock varsity basketball team last week by the score of 43 to 43. Frank Edelheimer and Goerke led the winners with 19 and 13 points respectively. Harder and Allen paced Woodstock with 13 and 12 in that order.

Mouzon Will Never Be in Ring Again

Philadelphia, Jan. 7 (AP)—Wesley Mouzon, the 19-year-old Philadelphia Negro who failed to wrest the lightweight crown from Bob Montgomery Nov. 26, will never fight again, doctors at the Wills Eye Hospital report.

Mouzon, his vision badly damaged in the fight, undergoes a second operation today which specialists hope will give the boxer complete sight. Doctors said Mouzon regained partial use of his injured right eye after the first operation last Dec. 10. He was knocked out by Montgomery in the eighth round of a 15-round contest.

Hogan Is Worried About Shoulder

Automatic Ben Will Go to San Antonio for Treatments

Los Angeles, Jan. 7 (AP)—Automatic Ben Hogan, coasting to an easy three-stroke win in his first 1847 start, the Los Angeles Open, was more concerned today with his ailing shoulder than future golf tournaments.

"I'm heading for a San Antonio clinic right after the Phoenix Open at the end of this month," said Hogan after he had breezed in with a 280, four under par for 72 holes over the rugged Riviera layout.

"I can't take much more of this," added the 35-year-old Hereafter, explaining that his left shoulder bothered him throughout the four-day tournament.

How much more his opponents can take seemed problematical as the golfing fraternity prepared to pick up sticks and leave for the Bing Crosby pro-amateur at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Second place money Penna, Cincinnati, two strokes behind at 282, challenged courageously with a first nine 33 on yesterday's final round, then collapsed to 40 for 73 and final score of 283.

Ed Oliver, Wilmington, Del., another leader, slipped to 75 and a sixth place 288.

With his nearest competitors fading so rapidly, it was a snap for "Automatic" Hogan to come back with a 72, one over par, and still pick up a stroke on the field.

He also picked up the $2,000 first money. His 280 was the best 72-hole score ever posted for the Open at Riviera, as he duplicated his triumph here in 1942.

Donna received $400 in consolation balm with Herman Barnes, White Plains, N. Y.; Dai Rea, London, Ace, and George Fazio, Los Angeles pro, three-way tying for a third at 287 and 283.33 apiece.

Bud Ward of Spokane, Wash., lone amateur, also wound up at 287.

Craig Wood, New York, finished in 293 strokes and won $303.

To Television Games New York, Jan. 7 (AP)—Owners of television sets able to pick up broadcasts from the New York area will be able to watch the New York Giants in action in the Polo Grounds this year without leaving their parlors. A joint announcement yesterday by Horace Stoneham, president of the baseball club, and John F. Royall, N.B.C. vice-president in charge of television, said N.B.C. had purchased the television rights for the 77 Giants' home games in addition to a number of exhibitions for $50,000. N.B.C. has been televising ball games at the Polo Grounds since 1940 but this year will be the first on a regular basis.

Montgomery vs. Giossa Philadelphia, Jan. 7 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, the Philadelphia Negro who is recognized lightweight champion in New York and Pennsylvania, tangles with Eddie Giossa, also of Philadelphia, in a 10-round, non-title bout January 20 at the arena here.

Main Title Scheduled for 8 P. M.; Liberty and Middies Battle in League Clash Kingston High School's basketball team returns to the municipal auditorium tonight for the first time since December 20 when it meets the strong Fallsburg Central High School quintet in the main attraction slated for 8:15 o'clock. A prelude will be played at 7 o'clock.

League Game Scheduled While the Maroon cagers play a non-DUSO League skirmish tonight here in Kingston, Middletown and Liberty will play off its previously postponed league game at Middletown. The game was re-arranged last yesterday by Jack Hughes, director of athletics at Middletown High School. Both schools are currently tied for first place in the league with two victories apiece.

Stopped by the Liberty Redskins last Friday night to the tune of 41 to 35, Coach G. Warren Kias' basketballers hope to get off on the right foot tonight with a return to the win column. Although tonight's clash isn't a league game, the local hoopers realize that they must improve with every game if they hope to re-enter the pennant race for first half honors.

At the present time the Maroons are in second place with a record of two wins and one loss. Liberty, although unbeaten and with a strong squad, operating under Coach Jack George, must still meet Middletown and Monticello, two of the toughest teams in the league. A loss to either team would throw the whole race into a wild scramble for first place.

Although little is known concerning the invading Fallsburg quintet, tonight's opponents for the Maroons scored an overwhelming 51 to 22 victory over Ellenville High School last week. Bill Couch, right forward of Fallsburg, was the big man in that triumph and he'll be the man to watch tonight. Others in the Fallsburg lineup include Dill, a forward, Wolcott at center, and Krueger and Berdera in the backcourt.

Walcott Seems To Be Next; Takes Max in Bout

Louis' Former Sparring Partner Is Winner in Sluggish Encounter

Philadelphia, Jan. 7 (AP)—A short, squat aging slugger named Jersey Joe Walcott was the most likely candidate today to become the next big fight of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis' campaign—the same Louis for whom Walcott served as sparring partner more than 10 years ago.

The Camden, N. J., Negro who admits to 32 years, but probably is closer to 40, was the duelist in a possible spring bout with Louis by winning a dull 10-round decision last night over Joe Maxim of Cleveland, O. The 24-year-old Maxim had beaten Walcott in an unpopular decision last summer.

A crowd of 9,980 who paid $53,770 to witness the Convention Hall heavyweight scrap, alternately booed and cheered, depending on whether Maxim was willing or unwilling to fight it out with Walcott.

As it turned out, in the only round in which the two slugged it out, Walcott won the edge by a narrow margin. That was the tenth and final round and it was Maxim's do-or-die stanza.

He had kept his right under wraps while Walcott was piling up a big margin on the strength of more aggressive tactics and more vicious close fighting.

The Associated Press scorecard showed Walcott the winner, five rounds to three with two even.

Redeemers Wallop Lutherans, 71-10

St. Peter's Score 38-13 Win Over Port Ewen

The Redeemer and St. Peter's basketball teams scored victories in the City Church League Monday night at the M.J.M. gym. The Redeemers defeated Immanuel Lutheran, 71 to 10 and St. Peter's downed Port Ewen Reformed, 38 to 13.

The scores: Redeemers (71)—Goerke 10-0, Elgo 3-0-6, Scheffel 11-1-23, Koch 4-0-8, Rowland 4-0-8, Hinkley 2-0-4, Hooker 1-0-2, Lutherans (10)—Buddenhagen 2-0-4, Wilcox 0-0-0, Morgan 2-0-4, Brandt 0-0-0, W. Waldmann 1-0-2, L. Waldmann 0-0-0.

St. Peter's (38)—Kearney 5-0-10, Smith 3-1-7, Petrucci 2-0-4, Long 2-0-4, Slicker 2-1-5, Roach 2-0-4, Lamareaux 1-0-2, Schatzel 1-0-2, Port Ewen Reformed (13)—Hansen 1-1-1, W. Hansen 4-0-8, Joseph 0-0-0, Mains 1-0-2, Swartz 0-0-0.

Battle of Words May Come Over Athletes

New York, Jan. 7 (AP)—The 252 member colleges of the National Collegiate Athletic Association are going to be asked whether they are ready to apply "sanctions" against schools which provide, among other things, room and board for star athletes.

The threat of a scheduled boycott would be the means of enforcing the basic code of amateurism in athletics, according to recommendations drawn up by the N.C.A.A.'s "conference of conferences" here yesterday.

The group, representing virtually every college conference and number of so-called independent schools, recommends a set of five principles which it proposes to implement with an agreement that the schools which adhere to them will not play the non-conformist schools.

This hot potato will be handed over to the regular N.C.A.A. convention tomorrow and is certain to provoke a battle of words.

Potters Take Third Place In City "Y" Court League

Elizabeth Cagers Play Here Saturday

The Elizabeth Braves, fourth place team in the Southern Division of the American Professional Basketball League, will meet the Kingston Chiefs in a regular league contest Saturday night at the municipal auditorium. A. B. "Turk" Karam disclosed late this morning.

The Braves have won seven and lost nine in league competition this year. Beaten 59 to 46 by the league leading Brooklyn Gothams New Year's night, the Chiefs hope to return to the win column Saturday night. In a league game over the week-end the Chiefs dropped a high scoring 78 to 55 decision to the Philadelphia Spas, second place club in the Southern Division.

Tickets for Saturday night's game are now on sale and may be obtained by calling the American Legion Building 1914.

Robinson to Play But Team Is Not Entirely Settled

Brooklyn, Jan. 7 (AP)—Jackie Robinson, the crack negro athlete who captured the batting championship of the International League last season while infolding for the Montreal Royals, definitely will make an appearance in Ebbets Field this season but whether he will play again with the Montrealers or with the big league Dodgers remains to be seen.

Robinson and the "people's choice," Dixie Walker, were among the numerous persons and things discussed at a press conference held yesterday by Branch Rickey, Dodger president.

Rickey announced that the Brooks and the Royals, a Dodge farm, will meet in exhibition games at Ebbets Field April 9 and 10 thus insuring Robinson's presence. The Braves threatened to C. C. A. athletes and first member of his race to play in organized ball since 1900, however, still is a member of the International League.

Robinson, a .349 clouter in '46, also may be called upon to play with an independent Panama nine in the event of a pre-season tour to Havana with the parent Dodgers. The haziness over the whole situation rests on the ability of the Dodgers to get suitable quarters for the combined groups in Havana. The Hotel Nacional has promised enough space to take care of 100 persons and the number of both outfits will number about 135.

If the Royals go to Havana then Robinson will play with a Panamanian nine which is scheduled to face Brooklyn March 10. This, obviously, for interests of the gate.

Meanwhile, Massa Rickey came out with a little double talk over Walker, perennial spring holdout and regular rightfielder comes the championship fight.

Walker will not be sold, traded or brushed aside by any rising rookie, Rickey said, adding: "He is a great player and a better ball player than at any time in his life. We have 122 outfielders in our organization and I don't think there's one of them capable of taking Dixie's job."

Assault Won't Run

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 7 (AP)—Assault, horse of the year in 1946, will not run in the $100,000 Santa Handicap, Trainer Max Hirsch said. Assault had raced a long season "and I just didn't have time to get him in shape for the California race." Hirsch added that "he'll be ready and running when the New York spring season opens." Assault, owned by the King Ranch of Texas, is wintering here.

Coach Kias isn't expected to make any changes in his starting lineup for tonight's contest. Mike Rlenzo and Ken Lowry will be at the guard positions. Should the Maroons find the going easy with Fallsburg, the Maroon mentor is expected to substitute freely with such men as George Glaser, "Champ" Holstein, Tom McGrane, Paul Kaman, Ed McCasle, Ned Dunham, Joe Albany and Pete Boalukun.

Weaver Tops Scorers Ed Weaver, Kingston's high scoring center, leads the DUSC League scorers to date with a total of 53. He's dumped in 22 fields and nine fouls. Don Huffmire, Liberty center, in two games has scored 44. Bert Halpin of Monticello is third with 42 and Jay Hodges of Newburgh has amassed 39. Others in the 30 or more bracket are Motrie Kaplan of Monticello with 38 and Bill Englehart of Port Jervis with 32. Huffmire gets his chance to overtake Weaver tonight when he faces the other Redeemer cagers engaged Middletown High.

Rose Schatzel Rallies to Trip Albany Ace in Singles Match

GREATEST SHOW EVER The greatest bowling show ever presented in Kingston coincides happily with Jimmy Powers' sudden affinity with tenpins. And in this connection we suspect the fine Italian hand of Al Cirillo, bowling columnist of the New York Enquirer and a genuine friend of Kingston bowling. In this particular case, the fine Italian hand cannot be construed as a figure of speech. Mr. Cirillo is Latin all the way.

The forthcoming Rose Schatzel-Mickey Michaels duel Saturday night at the Central Recs was handed a bouquet by Powers in his Saturday column. Mr. Powers, who is currently immersed in the intricacies of solving "spot" bowling and the five step delivery, ventured the suggestion he would like to go steady with Rose, if she could cook.

Acid-fingered Jimmy doesn't know it, but Mrs. Schatzel happens to be a terrific cook. Her talents in the kitchen complement those on the polished lanes. Under existing circumstances, however, the "going steady" angle will have to be discounted. Mr. Schatzel might have something to say about that.

POWERS PREDICTS In his Sunday column, Jimmy Powers made three or four predictions. He said an all-star Eastern ladies squad of Tillie Taylor, Mickey Michaels, Irene Richards, Ann Sabolowski and Thelma Cuzzo could whip any aggregation in the country. Powers' prediction rings with a sincerity backed by the records. Our dough would ride on these larrupping lassies against any squad in the nation.

Happily for local fans, four of these female stars will be seen in action next Sunday afternoon in the March of Dimes extravaganza against Kaye Sportswair. Mickey Michaels has informed the writer that she will have Irene Richards, Ann Sabolowski, Ann McLennan and either Tillie Taylor or Thelma Cuzzo in her lineup. That's as much class as you'll ever see in a single match.

A. B. & B. HAS SENSATIONAL SQUAD Another of Jimmy Powers' predictions was that the American Bowling and Billiard squad of New York City would win the 1947 A.B.C. tournament in Los Angeles, if Tony Sparando replaced Frank Seaton in the lineup.

Personnel of the A. B. & B. current leaders in the Metropolitan Major League, a 16-team wheel with the best bowlers in New York and New Jersey, features two of the greatest names in bowling history—Marty Cassio and Mort Lindsey, the Stamford, Conn., millionaire.

CASSIO TOPS A.B.C. FOR 10 YEARS Cassio needs no introduction to Kingston fans. He is the 10-year high average leader in A.B.C. competition, the most coveted honors in bowling. He is a singles shooter of renown. Lindsey was a tenpin immortal before many of the present day stars threw their first ball. He holds two A.B.C. titles and is regarded as one of the five greatest bowlers of all time.

The A. B. & B. also features Frank Seaton, who was a tremendous powerhouse for the Capital Five of New York when that team was regarded as the greatest in the East. Two newcomers to the big time are Don Straci, who finished second in last year's World Telegram Individual and Rickey Knapp, a New Jersey youngster. Knapp was recently selected on the all-Metropolitan League squad with Tony Sparando, Marty Cassio, Andy Varipapa and Mort Lindsey.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM Cause celebre: Thelma Moss tossed the first 500 of her career Sunday in the Mixed League and was a mighty happy lady. . . . Evelyn Francis whacked out a big 230 and 591. . . . John MacLellan scorched Poughkeepsie's lanes with a 644. . . . Mac has been trying unsuccessfully for two years to crack 600 in the Major League. . . . He might do it if he stayed away from scoreboard for 30 frames. . . . It's a terrific temptation, we know, but it has been done. . . . Harold Broskie got into that "three for three" class last week with a trio of 214s in the Hudson Valley League. . . . Ann Sabolowski, scheduled here Sunday, opened with a split recently in Newark and then went all the way out for 279. . . . She roars up to the foul line in thunderous fashion that makes our own Grace Sabo appear like a gentle zephyr.

OF MEN AND MICE Sam Moss, who has a vocabulary colorful and original and becoming to a gentleman of the old south, yes sah, explains his bloop this way: "Ah just didn't get it over fer enough." Can you think of a better reason? . . . Jones Dairy No. 1 had 15 marks at the end of the second frame in the third game against Ellenville Sunday—and LOST. . . .

THE QUEEN HAS IT Mickey Michaels is coming to Kingston Saturday backed by a barrel of money against Rose Schatzel. . . . Don't sell Rose short. . . . Her 9-pin victory over Viola Morrison of Albany Saturday night in a sensational finish in which she picked up 42 pins in two games and had to convert the "baby split" in the ninth frame was an exhibition that will never be forgotten by those who saw it. . . . Rose shot 993 for 5 games under pressure. . . . How many local men do you think could do it?

Blaik's Voice Is Heard at Dinner; Kept at Dayton New York, Jan. 7 (AP)—Earl (Red) Blaik, head football coach of Army, was unable to accept in person the award as coach of the year here last night but his voice was heard by the more than 250 sports celebrities who attended a dinner in his honor.

Blaik was in Dayton, Ohio, for the funeral of his father, William Douglas Blaik, yesterday. He had planned to fly back to New York in time to accept the award but his plane was grounded by bad weather in Dayton.

A two-way radio broadcast was arranged, and Blaik's words of acceptance—a tribute to his associates and his squad—were relayed to the gathering. "I'm coach of the year," he said, "it follows that they (the assistants) are the staff of the year."

Blaik said he regarded his 1944 team as his best squad and his 1945 outfit as his best team and added "but, the 1944 team, with no replacements and with outstanding competition every week, had the strongest staff with it."

In addition to virtually all the "name football coaches of America, here for their annual meeting, the guest list included Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of the U. S. Military Academy; Maj. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, commander of the famed 101st Airborne Division; Bo McMillin of Indiana, 1945 recipient of the award, was toastmaster.

The award is made on the basis of a vote of members of the American Football Coaches Association in a poll conducted by the Scripps-Howard newspapers.

Harold Dade Wins San Francisco, Jan. 7 (AP)—Harold Dade, a relatively unknown 23-year-old 12 to 1 underdog, pounded out a unanimous 15-round decision last night to end little Manuel Ortiz five year reign as the National Boxing Association's world bantamweight champion. Ortiz, putting his title on the block for the 16th time, took the lead in the early rounds, but Dade turned in a display of clever boxing that had the champion floundering vainly trying to land swinging punches in the final rounds. There were no knockouts, each fighter weighed 117½ pounds.

Local Bowler Winds Up 10-Game Series With Nine Pin Edge; Kayes Cop Sixth Straight

Rose Schatzel, bowling queen of the Hudson Valley, displayed brilliant comeback form at the Central Recreation alleys last Saturday night when she came from behind to defeat Viola Morrison, Albany city singles champion by nine pins in the final of a 10 game series. Miss Morrison went into the final block holding a slim three point edge.

Carrying her three-pin advantage, the Albany female trundler immediately shot out to a 12 pin lead in the first game when she fired a 210 game. Mrs. Schatzel came along in good style also with a 201 singleton.

Miss Morrison strutted out to an almost unbeatable lead in her single game when she hit 209 to Mrs. Schatzel's 175 which gave her a 46-pin edge. Rose narrowed the lead down to 45 pins in the third with her game of 192 as Viola slammed home a 191 singleton.

Rose strengthened, however, in the fourth and telling game as she peeled off 205 while the Albany ace fired 178.

Trailing by 18 pins going into the final heat, Mrs. Schatzel pulled out in sensational style by peeling out a 229 single while Miss Morrison had to be content with a 193. Rose finished with a slim nine pin edge for 10 games.

Kayes Also Triumph The Kaye Sportswair combine tackled up its sixth straight victory Saturday in another midtown attraction by powering out a 63-pin victory over the Albany All Stars.

Minus Charlotte Lapine, who was out due to illness, the Kayes piled up a 253 game triple with a high game of 886. Evelyn Moore, blonde bomber, led the attack for Kayes with a 229 single and 564 triple. Rose Schatzel followed with a 536 series. Betty Boyce peeled off 164-155-198 for a 517 three-timer.

Miss Watkins was high for the Albany rundlers with her 533 triple. Viola Morrison chipped in with a 535 series and Ruby Hunter slammed 502.

In another singles encounter, Ruby Hunter, Albany's No. 2 female star, defeated Evelyn Moore by 103 pins.

Dewey Will Seek Block For Excessive Finance Charges

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 7 (AP)—Gov. Dewey will ask the legislature tomorrow to put a stop to excessive finance charges levied against installment plan buyers, a practice which aides said today he believes comes "pretty close to a scandal."

In his annual message the Governor will request the legislature to create a commission authorized to make a comprehensive statewide investigation of gouging of many time-payment buyers and to draft legislation curbing the practice.

Bloated interest rates and other carrying charges assessed against down-payment purchasers of household equipment, used automobiles, jewelry and other items would be probed by the legislative commission, which would take a year to make its study and prepare legislation for action in 1948.

Complaints Cause Proposal
Dewey's proposed inquiry, which the legislature is expected to sanction, stems from what the Governor's aides called an "increasing number" of complaints to the state banking department of overcharges for financing purchases and refusal of some companies to permit customers to pay up before expiration of their contracts and thus save part of the interest costs.

The banking department has advised the governor that under New York law now the sky is the limit on interest rates on installment purchases.

The situation is especially acute in the used-car field, the Governor's office said. Several complaints, some affecting veterans, were cited showing interest rates ranging up to 42.5 per cent, exclusive of insurance charges.

"Kickbacks" Involved
Some transactions were said to have involved "kickbacks" from finance companies to sellers.

Dewey will not recommend a further reduction in the maximum rates of interest charged by small loan companies.

The Governor's message, which he will read at a joint session of the Senate and Assembly, marking the opening of the 1947 legislature, is approximately 11,000 words long and is divided into 50 subjects.

Among Dewey's recommendations will be a request that the legislature appropriate $2,500,000 to finance the school hot lunch program for the remainder of the school year.

Federal aid to New York schools, amounting to $2,500,000, will be exhausted next month. The Federal government pays nine cents of the cost of each lunch, which generally costs 29 cents. Pupils pay the balance, except those unable to pay.

Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, has announced he will introduce a bill to appropriate $2,500,000 for the hot lunch program.

Temperature Takes Drop
There was a decided drop in temperature Monday night, the official thermometer at the city engineer's office showing a drop from 35 degrees at 2 p. m. Monday, high for the day, to 13 degrees at 12:45 this morning, which was the low for last night.

Notre Dame Professor Talks at Bard College

Dr. Waldemar Gurian, professor of Political Science at the University of Notre Dame, spoke on the "Rise of Political Catholicism in Europe" at a general college meeting in the overcrowded Albee social room of Bard College on Saturday night.

Dr. Gurian described briefly the rise of modern Catholicism from the beginnings of the nineteenth century, when the church's prestige was low. He traced the rise of the philosophy of social justice and human liberty within the Catholic church, and described the political parties which grew up around this type of political Catholicism in various European countries. The prestige of the church rose under Pope Leo XIII and then even more during the first World War, he said, due to the efforts of Pope Benedict XV for peace. After the war, new Catholic parties were formed, for example in Italy. The connection of some members of the church with the totalitarian governments was regarded as a movement away from the humanitarian program. However, the church was regarded as the outstanding organized resistance group in the totalitarian countries during the second World War.

Dr. Gurian pointed out that since the end of the war political Catholicism has again become a vital question in Europe. France, Belgium, and Austria, among other countries, have Catholic parties. He said that the church is regarded by many as the sole international power in Europe able to successfully oppose Communism, and that fear of Communism was one of the strongest forces drawing members to the Catholic parties. However, at the same time the church is against Capitalism, and does not oppose government control in cases where it would be for the common good. As examples of the liberal attitude within the church, Dr. Gurian pointed to some Catholic publications in this country, which have taken liberal stands on important issues.

Dr. Gurian is a native of Russia and was a widely known writer and lecturer in Europe, coming to this country in 1937. He has contributed to leading publications in the United States, is the author of various books on political philosophy and is editor of the "Review of Politics," a quarterly sponsored by the University of Notre Dame.

LEGAL STEPS TO CORRECT BABY'S NAME

To the distressed young parents who wrote me that their baby should have been named Joan Little, Jr. and not 2nd as they had imagined and who now want to take proper steps to change the boy's name, my answer is: Nothing further than changing your self is necessary, since he is much too young to have made any important use of the suffix unless property has been left him in the name of John Little 2nd. In this case, it would be necessary to prove that John Little 2nd and John Little Jr. are the same individual.

A Second Engagement
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you tell me how much pay he made of my engagement in the papers? I was engaged several years ago and that engagement was broken, but this fact never announced. My friends naturally know. At that time, there was a big write-up in the papers, with pictures. Does anything have to be said now about the other?

Answer: Very definitely not. In fact, it would be in very bad taste to go into any detail about the former engagement. However, if you are a very prominent person, you will have no control over the amount of publicity given you. If you are not a very prominent person, then the chances are that nothing will be said by anyone about your former engagement. In short, you yourself should make a simple statement of your present engagement and hope that the other will not be featured.

Bridegroom's Parents Call Guests

Dear Mrs. Post: Why trust an invitation to be sent to the bridegroom's parents to their own son's wedding? Seems senseless. Answer: Does it? When the facts are that your parents are giving the wedding and the reception and his parents will be the most important guests present? If formal invitations are sent, the chief guests should receive them. If the wedding is very small and the invitations are by written note, a letter should be sent his mother. Even though she knows the day and hour of the wedding, it would be courteous to repeat it. If they have to stay somewhere in your town, you also should ask what arrangements they have made. If none, then you should attend to these details and write them what you have done.

SENATE CHAPLAIN

Election of Dr. Peter Marshall (above) as chaplain of the Senate by a vote, along party lines touched off the first political debate of the new session. Democrats accused the G.O.P. of playing "partisan politics" with a religious office. Dr. Marshall is pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church in Washington. (AP Wirephoto)

Banking operations at the State of New York National Bank have been transferred from the Wall street entrance to the newly completed portion of the rebuilt building on John street while the Wall street portion of the building is being reconstructed.

The change was made over the week-end and on Monday morning the John street entrance was used by patrons. When the reconstruction of the banking house was commenced, a new building was erected on John street on the site of the former Brinley building. A new vault was built and this section of the building will be used temporarily for all banking operations while the balance of the building is being completed.

It is expected that the interior work will be completed about April first when the entire building will be placed again in use by the bank.

President Gives His Views on How To Keep Prosperity

Would Leave Taxes Alone,
Raise Minimums on Wages, Increase
Security

Washington, Jan. 8 (AP)—President Truman told Congress today the way to keep America prosperous in 1947 is to leave taxes alone, raise minimum wages, increase Social Security benefits, broaden coverage of the wage-hour law and maintain rent controls.

It would be "unsound fiscal policy" to cut wartime income taxes, the Chief Executive declared in his first annual economic report to the legislative branch.

The main approach to balancing "real purchasing power" with productive capacity, he said, "must be through reduced prices." Taxes should be kept at present levels, Mr. Truman asserted, because of "the rule of sound public finance that calls for surplus in government revenues over expenditures while employment is high and the total income is large."

He conceded the tax burden is great and should be lightened "as soon as possible," but he cautioned: "When reductions come, it will be important that they be fairly and equitably distributed, that they contribute to the maintenance of purchasing power by reducing the burden on the mass of consumers, and that they help provide the work and business incentives essential for a high level of production."

Begins on Cheerful Note

The President's lengthy report, based on studies by his new economic council, began on this cheerful note:

"As the year 1947 opens America has never been so strong or so prosperous. Nor have our prospects ever been brighter."

Mr. Truman said he and the American people reject "the notion we must have another depression."

In addition to immediate action toward raising minimum wages, the president said, Congress should adopt a long-range housing program, encourage construction of a million homes in the next 12 months and adjust public assistance, old age and survivors insurance benefits under the Social Security Act to meet cost of living increases. Mr. Truman mentioned no specific figures in his minimum wage and social security recommendations.

Congress set up the president's Economic Advisory Council and specified yearly reports when it passed the Employment Act of 1946 last summer.

Long Range Suggestion

For a long range program, the chief executive suggested:

Enactment of legislation to prevent discrimination against racial and other minority groups and to bring about efficient co-ordination of the employment services of the 48 states.

Mr. Truman asked the last Congress in vain to establish a permanent fair employment practice commission charged with preventing employment discriminations against minorities.

He recommended greater flexibility in the government's farm price support program to avoid danger of keeping the level "too high."

Encouragement of "free enterprise" by (a) amendment of the anti-trust laws to prohibit mergers through acquisition of assets or stock control, and (b) easier long-term credit to "small and promising business enterprises."

Adjustment of federal retirement and pension systems to "the size and composition of our labor force, increased social security benefits and expansion of peace-time programs of public health, nutrition and education."

Reciprocal reduction of trade barriers, Mr. Truman cited progress in the formation of an international trade organization as "the most important step we can take to reestablish a high volume of trade on a sound basis."

A well-integrated program of

Marshall Says Salvation Of China Is in Liberals

Washington, Jan. 7 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall declared today the salvation of strife-torn China "would be the assumption of leadership by the Liberal in the government and the minority parties."

In a 1200 word "personal statement," The President's personal envoy to China said that "sincere efforts to achieve settlement of the strife between the government and Communist forces 'have been frustrated time and again by extremists element of both sides.'"

Marshall, who is leaving Hankow tomorrow to report personally to President Truman, asserted that Chinese government soon will undergo major reorganization under a new constitution.

In a temperate note of optimism, he said that "now that the form for a democratic China has been laid down by the newly adopted constitution, practical measures will be the best."

employment stabilization, "improvements in the processes by which workers find jobs and employers find workers; improvements in the tax structure; wise management of the public debt and a flexible credit policy."

In asking immediate revision of benefit payments under the Social Security system, Mr. Truman said: "The Congress has already authorized a temporary increase in public assistance benefits. This legislation expires at the end of this year and new legislative action is required."

"Benefits under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance system should also be adjusted. These measures are necessary to alleviate real hardships which have been aggravated by increase in the cost of living. Beyond that, adequate Social Security benefits payments provide a desirable support to mass purchasing powers."

As an argument for keeping rent ceilings, Mr. Truman said "a large increase in rents would substantially reduce consumer purchasing power."

He remarked that the government can help to maintain a balance between prices and wages. In this connection he said government buying agencies "will avoid policies that stimulate price increases or prevent reductions," adding:

"Disposal of surplus goods will be speeded. The antitrust laws will be applied vigorously to prevent and eliminate restrictive practices and pricing abuses."

The wage-hour act should be extended to "classes of workers in interstate commerce now excluded," the President said, without naming them. The act specifically excludes some workers, such as processors of agricultural products.

Marshall assailed what he called "extremist" elements in Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government and in the opposition Communist forces.

He said: "The reactionaries in the government have evidently counted on substantial American support regardless of their actions. The Communists by their unwillingness to compromise in the national interests are evidently counting on an economic collapse to bring about the fall of the government, accelerated by extensive guerrilla action against the long lines of rail communications—regardless of the cost in suffering to Chinese people."

He said the "salvation of the situation, as I see it, would be the assumption of leadership by the Liberals in the government and in the minority parties, a splendid group of men but who as yet lack the political power to exercise a controlling influence." Asserting that "a very harmful and immensely provocative phase of the Chinese Communist party procedure has been in the character of its propaganda," Marshall said: "I wish to state to the American people that in the deliberate misrepresentation and abuse of the action, policies and purposes of our government this propaganda has been without regard for the truth, without any regard whatever for the facts, and has given plain evidence of a determined purpose to mislead the Chinese people and the world and to arouse a bitter hatred of Americans. "It has been difficult to remain silent in the midst of such public abuse and wholesale disregard of facts, but a denial would merely lead to the necessity of daily denials; an intolerable course of action for an American official. "In the interest of fairness, I must state that the Nationalist Government Publicity Agency has made numerous misrepresentations, though not of the vicious nature of the Communist propaganda."

Receives Commendation

W. Kenneth Kukuk of the Kukuk Memorial Funeral Home, who is serving with the American Graves Registration Command, U. S. Army, has received commendation in the weekly bulletin of Second Zone, which is the official report of the graves registration work relative to an unusual recovery he made recently of a body from a mine field on a cliff in France overlooking the English Channel. This particular case has been investigated previously without result. It is unusual for an individual to be mentioned by name in this report. Near the recovery made by Mr. Kukuk were German coast defense guns, which were used to shell Dover.

Portal Pay Claims Jump 60 Millions; Bills Introduced

(By The Associated Press)

Portal to portal retroactive wage suits were filed in at least 13 cities for claims of more than $60,000,000 yesterday as two Republican senators introduced bills designed to curtail the avalanche of such actions against industry by labor unions.

The new claims of $61,220,500—a small amount compared to filings several days last week—brought the unofficial total of portal pay suits on file to $3,318,355,150. The claims are for pay for time spent on company property preparing for work and were started after a favorable decision in such a suit by the Supreme Court.

At Columbus, the international executive board of the Federation of Glass, Ceramics and Silica Workers of America (C.I.O.) authorized officials to file suits on behalf of 40,000 members for $6,000,000. Suits were filed yesterday in federal courts in Chicago, Houghton, Mich., Newark, N. J., Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Detroit, Port Huron, Mich., New Haven, Conn., Baltimore, Md., N. Y., Evansville, Ind., New Albany, Ind., and Freeport, Ill.

In Washington, Senators Wiley (R-Wis.) and Caperhart (R-Ind.) introduced bills as amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. All suits such as the pending claims now on file would be barred under one section of Wiley's bill, while most of them would be placed outside the domain of the courts under terms of Caperhart's measure.

Wiley in a statement said: "It has become absolutely urgent that Congress promptly enact legislation which will preserve the very foundation of American industry by relieving it of the many billions of dollars of portal-to-portal pay suits which have recently been filed."

Retail Selling Clinic For Kingston Discussed

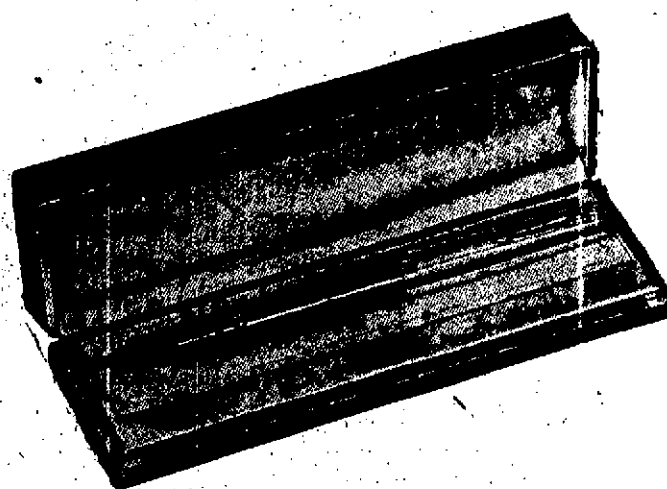

The possibility of a retail selling clinic being conducted in Kingston by the State Department of Education was discussed at last night's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce's Retail Committee at the Governor's Clinton.

Secretary Don Williams was authorized to meet with Loryne Connick and James Tobin, members of the vocational guidance staff at Kingston High School, to discuss the possibility of such a clinic.

If plans materialize, retail selling experts of the Department of Education would instruct all of Kingston's retail clerks in the art of better service and courteous salesmanship.
